LETTER FROM THE HEADTEACHER

Good afternoon everyone,

I have some amazing news, finally, our Nurture Hub has been given the building start date of 27th January 2025. Please look out for more information where I will be sending you further details about the small changes that will be taking place once it begins. Year 6 pupils had a fantastic time yesterday learning about how to use renewable energy and were building cars and testing them. Congratulations goes to Mrs. Clarke and her play leaders' team for achieving the Gold standard award for the provision of OPAL play at lunchtime. Our school officially is one of the best in the country for lunchtime provision. We had our Academy school SEND review this week and the SEND Executive who carried out the review left the day leaving a very positive review. Please look out the for the article in the newsletter once the report is received.

I hope you have a lovely weekend and we'll see you next week.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Our Reading for Pleasure Service takes place every Wednesday. Reading for pleasure is a wonderful way to spark imagination, develop empathy, and improve language skills. It's a chance to escape into different worlds, meet fascinating characters, and learn new things.

Each week, one of our teachers will share their favourite book and read a short extract from it. The book will then be displayed in our foyer and will be available for pupils to borrow. This is a great opportunity for the children to discover new authors and genres, and to find books that you and your child will enjoy reading together.

This week, Mr Hiscox shared his favourite book 'The Secret of Black Rock' by Joe Todd-Stanton.

'Erin loves to lie on the jetty, looking for the weirdest fish in the sea the weirder, the better! And she knows the best ones must be further out, where her mum won't let her go . . .

Out there in the deepest sea lies the Black Rock: a huge, dark and spiky mass that is said to destroy any boats that come near it! Can Erin uncover the truth behind this mysterious legend?'

Mrs Shippey shared her favourite book 'The Elephant and the Bad Baby' by Elfrida Vipont.

'When an Elephant meets a Bad Baby and offers them a ride, it's the start of a wild adventure - going 'rumpeta, rumpeta, rumpeta' down the road, and helping themselves to ice creams, lollipops, and all manner of sweet treats.

But as a long line of disgruntled shopkeepers and salespeople begin to follow them, Bad Baby learns the importance of saying 'please,' and all the trouble you can get into if you forget . . .'

READING AT HOME

Please can we remind families that all children must read to to an adult at least 4 times a week. This is the only homework that our pupils need to do, and will earn their class points to win a prize.

TIPS FOR FAMILIES

Place2Be's
CHILDREN'S MENTAL HEALTH
WEEK

1 Encourage journalling

Just like Riley, encourage your older children and young people to express their emotions and thoughts through journalling. It can be less confronting than speaking out loud and is a helpful way to process what is going on.

2 Make space for reflection

When children and young people reflect on their different emotions, it can help them better understand themselves and what they need.

Go for a walk, drive, or try some mindful colouring or baking together.

3 Be visual

Use imagery, such as emojis or flashcards to help children and young people recognise and label their feelings.

4 Practice mindfulness

Try mindful activities, and quiet family time, to enjoy being in the present moment. This can help children and young people be aware of their thoughts and emotions and learn a useful new coping technique.

5 Communicate

Feedback is crucial for helping us see our blind spots and gain greater insight. Children and young people are no different. Creating safe and supportive ways to share your own experience with your child can help them understand themselves and their impact on the world around them.

If you're a parent or teacher, you'll find loads of useful advice to help you support the brilliant young people in your lives - from FAQs to downloadable packs. Here4You.co.uk
